

Greek Orthodox Folk Dance & Choral Festival Launches New Website

WWW.YOURFDF.ORG

October 30, 2008

San Francisco, California—October 30, 2008

The Board of Trustees of the Greek Orthodox Folk Dance and Choral Festival, a ministry of the Greek Orthodox Metropolis of San Francisco, proudly announces the launch of their new website: www.yourfdf.org This new and improved website for the Greek Orthodox Folk Dance and Choral Festival presents a fresh, visual perspective, and also reflects a renewed energy for the FDF program.

The website has been designed for efficiency and effectiveness, and highlights the wonderful attributes of the FDF program. You will find an enhanced and more comprehensive website that has been created to make the FDF planning process easier and more enjoyable for everyone.

“I commend the leadership of FDF and their vision to create this new website which utilizes the latest in technology to make this ministry relevant to our faithful in the 21st century,” states Metropolitan Gerasimos. “The preservation of our faith and culture through FDF is a priority for our Metropolis, and the enthusiastic direction of the Board of Trustees and Management Team will undoubtedly ensure a successful event for everyone who attends.”

Within the next few weeks, www.yourfdf.org will also include a new registration page, allowing dance and choral groups to begin registering for the 2009 FDF, scheduled for February 12 – 15 in Ontario, California. With great help and support from the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese Internet Ministries team, the new website allows for online registration, payment, and will allow FDF leadership the ability to track a number of important elements that will help with event planning and logistics. A follow-up announcement will be distributed when online registration is activated.

Yourfdf.org spells out a new vision for the program. It's all about YOU. This is everyone's FDF and it will only thrive when everyone comes together as a community in Faith, Dance and Fellowship. With your ongoing participation and support, FDF will continue to cultivate what has become and will continue to be the most vibrant Greek Orthodox youth dance ministry in the world.

Take time now to experience the new www.yourfdf.org website. Be sure your calendar is marked and start making your plans now to attend your FDF...you won't want to miss it!

Press Contacts:

John Boudouvas

jboudouvas@gmail.com

NOTE TO EDITORS: For additional information visit the FDF website or email sffolkdance@sanfran.goarch.org

